Satpuda Foundation's conservation philosophy focuses on communities living in and around protected areas. The Foundation believes that these communities need to be roped in as allies in the conservation movement and that long-term, sustainable conservation is not possible only through the action of outsiders.

As part of this strategy, the Foundation follows a multi-pronged strategy of trust-building activities with communities, assisting them in meeting some of their basic needs, building their capacities and training and equipping them to shift to a lifestyle which is not based entirely on forests and forest produce.

Towards this end, the Foundation

- undertakes education programmes focusing on nature and wildlife conservation
- acts as a bridge between the villagers and development agencies in solving local development needs and
- assists villagers in getting gainful, legal employment and also organizes training programmes which help equip unemployed villagers with skills which will help them either get jobs or start their own small businesses
- undertakes grassroots conservation activities

Highlights of our activities in 2012-13

Conservation activities

Water Conservation

The Foundation organises programmes involving local villagers and school children to build temporary structures known as check dams/stop dams which help to retain water and to recharge water table of the adjoining areas. These structures are typically built on streams, known as nallahs, and are selected with the help of local forest officials and villagers.

In addition, we also help build soak pits next to wells/hand pumps. These soak pits collect the water which is spilt while being drawn from the hand pump or well and help to recharge the water table.

Fire fighting

Each year, our teams assist in preventing fires, fighting fires, which are very common in the dry, deciduous forests of this region. We start with awareness programmes from the spring months onwards and then extend our efforts to physically fighting the fires, which typically occur during the summer months.

Training in organic farming

Our team also organises training programmes to teach farmers organic farming in a bid to reduce the use of chemical fertilisers and pesticides in areas next to prime forests.

A list of our conservation activities is available in Annexure I.

Detailed monthly reports are available on our Web site www.satpuda.org

Education activities

Every month, during the academic year, we visit village schools in our area of operations to give classroom lectures on nature and wildlife, lead the students on nature trails to teach them about nature and wildlife. We also conduct interactive games with themes based on nature and wildlife.

Our education activities also include the showing of films on wildlife and nature.

Livelihood programmes

The Foundation is conscious that villagers have limited livelihood options. It is not easy to preach conservation to people struggling for a living. The Foundation has, therefore, made a focused effort to provide employment opportunities to unemployed youths and to organise programmes at which they have been able to learn skills which equip them to either get jobs or start their own small businesses, which will help reduce their dependence on forests and forest produce.

A list of youths who have got jobs through our assistance is available in Annexure 3 along with a list of training/skill-enhancement programmes organised by us. Detailed monthly reports are available on our Web site www.satpuda.org
